

Insulet Appoints Corinne Nevinny to Board of Directors

January 28, 2019

ACTON, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jan. 28, 2019-- Insulet Corporation (NASDAQ: PODD) (Insulet or the Company), the global leader in tubeless insulin pump technology with its Omnipod[®] Insulin Management System (Omnipod System), today announced that Corinne Nevinny has been appointed to the Company's Board of Directors, effective immediately. Ms. Nevinny replaces James Mullen, who is stepping down from Insulet's Board to focus on his family's philanthropic foundation and other business ventures.

Ms. Nevinny is the General Partner of LMNVC, a seed venture fund making early-round investments in start-up companies that have products or services that improve quality of life, including health and wellness oriented businesses. From 2003 to 2010, she served in a variety of roles at Edwards Lifesciences Corporation, including General Manager – Cardiac Surgery Systems, President of Global Operations, and Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer. In these roles, Ms. Nevinny was at various times responsible for global sales, manufacturing, quality and supply chain operations, as well as oversight of core operating units including finance, IT, internal audit and risk management.

"On behalf of the Board, I am very pleased to welcome Corinne to Insulet," said Timothy Scannell, Chairman of Insulet's Board of Directors. "Corinne's talents are an excellent complement to our existing Board skill set. She brings strategic acumen and demonstrated, successful industry experience. We are delighted that a proven leader like Corinne has joined our Board and look forward to her contributions as Insulet continues to accelerate growth and deliver value to our stakeholders."

Mr. Scannell continued, "Insulet has been well served by Jim's contributions and on behalf of the entire Board and management team, I thank him for his service to the Company and wish him all the best in his future endeavors."
